Political Pot In Holland Is Simmering

SEVERAL MAYOR
CANDIDATES ALREADY IN THE FIELD

Treasurer's Office Also Much Sought After

The political pot in the city of Holland is beginning to simmer a little and without doubt before another week rolls around the cauldron will seethe some more and it will be at a boiling point possibly before the primaries in March 3.

Candidates must have their petitions in by four o'clock Saturday afternoon of this week, which is the "zero hour." The candidates for the different offices so far filing petitions or who probably will are as follows:

For mayor—Eugene C. Brooks, who has just finished his first term; Sears McLean, alderman of the fourth ward; Nichodemus Bosch, former Holland mayor.

For city treasurer—John G. Stegenga, Gerrit Prins, Henry Klopars, William Schumaker, Nick Sprietama, and Cornelius D. Knoll, John Vander Hill and Gerrit Van Amrooy.

For board of public works—Martinus Vande Water, who has been an able member for a good many years.

Board of police and fire commissioners—Jacob Lokker, a former alderman; and John P. Luidens, Bert Vander Poel, who has faithfully served for the past five years declined to take another nomination.

For supervisor—two to be elected—the candidates are Ed Vanden Berg, present chairman of the board, John De Kooyter, and Benjamin Brower, Bert Huijenga.

Justice of peace—two positions are to be filled. One because of the resignation of former mayor William Brusse, and the second because of the expiration of the term of Charles K. Van Duren, who is now attorney for the Holland Furnace company. No candidates have filed up to this time. The holdover justices are Attorneys Elbert Parsons and Cornelius De Keyser.

For aldermen the following candidates have filed or are talked of: First ward—Ed Westing, the present alderman, and Henry Prins. Second ward—John Woltman, the present alderman.

Third ward—Wm. C. Vandenberg.

Fourth ward—Ed Sooter, John Rutgers, Bert Huijenga.

Fifth ward—Fritz Jonkman.

Sixth ward—Will Vissers retires. The candidates are former alderman William Thomson, Adrian Casau and Al Van Lente.

Constable—Egbert Beekman, second ward; Peter Lugten fifth ward; Tony Beyer, sixth ward.

An amendment will also be voted on at the spring primaries March 3.

FOR HOLLAND TOWNSHIP

Candidates who wish to run for the different township offices must file their petitions with township clerk Charles Ellender before four o'clock Saturday afternoon of this week. Full particulars are elsewhere in a notice in this issue.

HOLLAND BOXING MATCH
WITH WOLGAST FEB. 25

Officials of Company D, National Guards, have negotiated a return match between Ad Wolgast and Frankie Frisco in a 10-round bout as the main event in a boxing bout to be staged Tuesday evening, Feb. 25, in the Armory. Tony Myska of Grand Rapids and Duane Duncan of Kalamazoo will be the principals in a heavyweight match of six rounds.

Wolgast was given a decision over Frisco by Iri Croshaw in a bout here last fall, but the decision was by such a slender margin that many of the crowd at the show favored the bout as a draw.

REV. DAME WILL PREACH OF DAVID

"Why is David Called a Man After God's Own Heart?" On this question which has often been asked Rev. C. P. Dame of Trinity Church will preach next Sunday evening. Some time ago the pastor was asked this question and he promised to preach on this subject at a later date. Sunday evening he will fulfill the promise. This sermon is of the series "Questions of Observant People." In the sermon the pastor will set forth the qualities which God desires to see in men and women. The Sunday evening services in Trinity Church begin at 7:30 o'clock. The choir will render inspiring music and congregational singing will occupy a large place in the service. Young and old are cordially invited to worship in Trinity Church Sunday evening.

City Marshal Oscar Lemon of Allegan has opened Higinbotham hill to traffic again. The hill had been closed evenings for coasting but it was alleged the privilege had been abused.

The city of Allegan has paid out about $3,500 for snow removal and plowing so far this winter. This sum, it is stated, is about $2,000 more than ever has been expended before, and the figures may be increased by more snowstorms.

ZEELAND PUBLIC SCHOOLS CHANGE SUPER- INTENDENTS TEMPORARILY

At their regular meeting held Tuesday, the Zeeland board of education granted a year's leave of absence to the Superintendent of Schools, Chris A. De Jonge. Mr. De Jonge, who has been in charge of the Zeeland schools since 1925, will be absent from the local system next year, as he will spend the year in study toward the degree of Doctor of Philosophy (Ph. D.) at one of the universities.

The board of education unanimously decided to offer the superintendency for next year to M. B. Rogers, who has served well as high school principal for the past four years.

Mr. De Jonge is a graduate of Hope College as is Mrs. De Jonge, who formerly was Miss Marian Van Dreizer of Holland.

MISSIONARY IN JAPAN SINCE
1886 RETURNS

Rev. and Mrs. Albert Oltmans, veteran missionaries in Japan for the Reformed Church in America, are planning to return to America on furlough in May. Mrs. Oltmans recently recovered from a dangerous attack of pleuro-pneumonia.

Dr. and Mrs. Oltmans first left for Japan upon the completion of his ministerial course in New Brunswick seminary in 1886. They have returned to America on several furloughs and a few years ago became listed as emeritus missionaries after 40 years of service.

Unwilling to leave the country of their adoption Dr. Oltmans became associated with the leper movement in Japan and since has devoted his time in the interest of leper colonies.

Three of the Oltmans children followed their parents to the mission fields in Japan.

SIXTH REFORMED CHURCH
MEMBERSHIP HAVE REAL
CAUSE TO CELEBRATE

The Sixth Reformed church on Lincoln avenue, although numbered with the younger congregations of this community, starting as it did with a humble beginning in a portable church, has ample reason to rejoice over its success. Tonight, Friday, at 7:30 o'clock, the congregation, embracing the old and the young members, will gather in the church edifice to celebrate its success. First there will be a business session when the treasurer will make the financial report and the budget for the ensuing year, as arranged, will be read.

One of the features of the meeting will be a report from the consistory stating that henceforth this congregation will discontinue its request for support from the board of domestic missions and become a self-supporting church. During the past year it has been receiving five hundred dollars from this source. Rev. S. Vander Werf will be present at the meeting to extend congratulations of the board.

The Sixth Reformed church was organized in 1918 during the stressful war period. The first pastor was Rev. John H. Bruggers, now of Coopersville. Under the leadership of Mr. Bruggers, the congregation enjoyed a rapid growth and at the time of his leaving there were many expressions of regret, not alone from the congregation but from the citizens of Holland as well.

The present church edifice was erected during these twelve years, as was the new parsonage north of the church.

The church site selected was very desirable since it was far removed from the territory of other churches, and was felt to be a real need at the extreme east end of Holland. The rapid growth demonstrated that these plans were well founded.

Sixth Reformed church has nearly a hundred families on the church roll and its membership is 182. Aside from this a large number attend each Sunday who have no direct connection with the church. In Rev. John Vanderbeek the congregation has found an able leader. There has been a steady growth during the year while the new pastor was in charge. This is evident when it is brought out that during the year a total of 44 members joined the church through confession of faith and by letter and that last Sunday five joined through confession of faith and seven by letter.

Mr. Vanderbeek and his estimable wife, who have greatly endeared themselves to this congregation and all feel gratified that the spiritual as well as material growth of the church has been very marked.

It is for this reason that the members are celebrating tonight and the business session will be followed by a real social hour for which a program has been arranged.

Britishers Can See How Daniel Poling Does It

London Paper Gives Review of European Activities of Prominent American Divine—Refers to Diekema

The "British Weekly" one of the leading periodicals of the British Isle, printed in London, gives an interesting description of the activities of Dr. Daniel Poling in Europe.

Mr. Poling, it will be remembered, was a prominent speaker at the General Synod of the Reformed Church of America meeting in Holland last June when the new memorial chapel was dedicated.

Anyway, Dr. Poling is now in England and the British Weekly has the following:

"DR. DANIEL A. POLING"

Dr. Daniel A. Poling, of the famous Marble Collegiate Church, New York, has been on an all too brief visit to Europe this month.

For the last two Sundays he has occupied the pulpit of the City Temple, whilst Dr. Norwood has been at the Collegiate Church.

In between the two Sundays Dr. and Mrs. Poling have traveled extensively on the Continent in the interests of the Christian Endeavor movement, for Dr. Poling has now succeeded the late Dr. Francis E. Clark in the presidency of the World's Christian Endeavor Union.

Whilst on the Continent Dr. Poling was accorded a forty-five minutes' private audience with the President of the French Republic, and Dr. and Mrs. Poling were later the guests of the American Ambassador at the Hague, Minister Diekema and his estimable wife of Holland, Michigan.

It is a very difficult task even to enumerate the activities in this man's hands. To a Britisher they seem frankly impossible. Take, for example, Dr. Poling's Radio Conference on Sunday afternoons. From a New York broadcasting station he is "hooked up," to use an Americanism, with twenty-eight radio stations, and his Gospel message is calculated to reach more than five millions of hearers every Sabbath. The message ended, Dr. Poling selects from the thousands of questions sent in a few that he deems of general interest and broadcasts his replies. To the remainder, a personal reply is sent within forty-eight hours, and in answers that allow of it, or need it, are followed up by an organization that operates across the whole continent of North America. I was amazed to learn that Dr. Poling employs fourteen secretaries to deal with this radio correspondence.

The reclamation and helpful nature of this work seen by a growing mass of evidence—"human documents."

More and more Dr. Poling is being looked up to in America as a foremost leader of youth. This year he is President of the Dutch Reformed Church, and as such he has great opportunities of reaching a host of young people in this, one of the oldest of the Presbyterian family of Churches.

As editor-in-chief of the American "Christian Herald," he has a medium of contact with many scores of thousands of readers, and finally, as President of the Endeavor movement, with its world membership of more than four millions, he has a field of service, the width and depth of which it is not easy to gauge.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

About half past three Thursday fire broke out in the old Union School building on Eleventh street.

The children were dismissed instantly, who fled in dismay, many bareheaded, some carrying shawls, cloaks, school books, etc. in their arms. The alarm of fire was given by the untimely ringing of the school bell. Soon the regular fire bell on the engine house sounded and then the factory whistles began the din that always follows when a fire is discovered. The hand pump and hose cart were soon on the scene but it was evident that the old school was doomed to the flames. For once our street wells in that vicinity did not give out but for that a dwelling house belonging to Otto Breyman the jeweler, would have been destroyed. Citizens did excellent work at the hand pump and no doubt this prevented the fire from spreading. The Board of Education will rent quarters some where until the new Union school (now Froebel) is ready for occupancy.

There will be another masquerade ball at Lyceum hall and costumes can be secured from Mesdames Baker and Borden who will be here at the City hotel the day before. The bill will be 75 cents the couple, and 25c for spectators in the gallery. Supper will be served at intermission at John Pesink's bakery shop at 50 cents per couple. Intermission at mid-night.

Mr. L. Schadelee died at his home at the age of 74 years.

The butterfat factory has again changed hands. G. Van Putten sold his interest to Jacob Van Putten, Sr., local banker, who it is said bought it for his two sons, Jacob Jr. and Adrian. The firm will be known as J. Van Putten and Company.

Markets: Eggs, 30c; pork, 7 1/2c; Mutton, 12c; chickens, 10-12c; butter, 32c; veal, 12c.

According to preliminary announcements from Grand Haven the Bakers' association will raise the price of bread to six cents a loaf.

The H. O. H. of Holland is maintaining a skating pond on Harrington's dock and will hold an ice festival Saturday. Ald. Bert Slaghs has charge of the work of having electric lights put up and wire fence stretched to prevent crowding during the events.

Included in Holland's dog population is a little rat terrier which has achieved the distinction of having traveled a greater number of miles than has any of the 300 licensed canines in this city. Her name is Fannie and she is owned by a meat market man. Many months ago Fannie took a notion to follow the trail of Thomas Venhuizen, Holland mail carrier and the trip pleased her so well that she since has followed the postman on every trip of the day for every day of the year. In case a substitute takes Tom's route Fannie takes the trail just the same as though her master was on the job. — Note: The dog has passed and so has Tom as a postman. He now sells Studebakers.

A BRIGHTER OUTLOOK

If the opinion of A. B. Genung, nationally known authority on agriculture, is worth anything, and Uncle Sam values it very highly, then the Holland man who has money invested in farm land has little cause for worry. "Bit by bit agriculture is getting straightened away for a generation of prosperity," he says in an article written for the Farm Journal. "The well located and productive farm lands of America are among the best bargains on the real estate market today. By the time we wake up to the fact they will be marking up the prices, for wise farmers are buying and when farm land starts to move upward it doesn't take it long to reach a good figure." We are offering the gentleman's opinion merely for what it is worth. You can take it or leave it. But we do believe in it enough to advise the man with money to invest to put it into old mother earth instead of chancing it in Wall Street, with its crazy speculation furries and paper profits that are wiped out over night.

Mud and Dust Must Go

Twenty-five years ago in this country a good road was the exception, rather than the rule. Now we have the greatest highway system in the world. The growth in use of the automobile was responsible for this development.

Money spent for improved roads is returned in social and industrial benefits. Highways are the foundation of community progress. Now a new phase of highway expansion is appearing, the building of secondary or feeder roads.

Roads are being extended into rural districts as never before since methods have been devised for using asphalt and road oils to give water proof hard surfaces at a minimum of expense.

The Woman's Literary club held their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon. The Holland High School Boys' Glee club sang several selections. Mrs. A. H. Landwehr had charge of the music. Rabbi Philip F. Waterman, author and lecturer, reviewed his own book, "The History of Superstition."

To Terrify Terrorists
Another Attempt to Kill
For Gold Star Mothers

Women Spend $3 Billions

Los Angeles, Calif.—The shooting of the Mexican president, his wife and another, none killed, fortunately, will mean drastic action in Mexico. No nation will tolerate, even in civilized times, a campaign for the control of government by murder. Back of the young hand that fired the shots there stands in the shadow some murderous organization, relying on terror and using servile tools for its purpose.

Ortiz Rubio and the powerful Fortes Gil, former president, now Rubio's secretary of the interior, will find a way to terrify the terrorists.

Before the would-be murderer shot him, Ortiz Rubio, in his brief inaugural address, had promised that all classes of Mexicans "should enjoy the privilege of being classed as men." Those familiar with conditions under which Mexico's lower classes have lived, and with the attitude toward them of the upper classes, will know what that means to the Mexican under dog.

Congress votes more than $5,000,000 that "gold star" mothers may visit their sons' graves in France. Of 11,000 mothers entitled to go, 6,000 have expressed a desire to go. Many cannot go, because of duties at home. Others, perhaps, dread the sorrowful shock. To those that do not go, congress should pay in cash the pro rata amount that it would cost to send them, about $1,000. No other course would be fair.

Texas has an "anti-chain store association" to drive and keep out chain stores owned outside the state. The governor and other high officials are said to indorse the association, which seeks to protect thousands of small merchants, driven to the wall by chain-store efficiency and economy.

Another attempted murder among our Latin-American friends. An attempt, fortunately a failure, is made on the life of Melio Viamna, vice president of Brazil. As in the recent Mexican outrage, the man attacked was making a political address and the would-be murderer was moved by political hatreds. Only harsh severity can meet such an assassination epidemic.

Richard Stewart, rug merchant of Warren, Ohio, is in jail. Judge Perry found him guilty of molesting a woman. Stewart offers an excuse as old as Adam: "The woman came on to me." It would have been fortunate for Adam, and for us, but Adam likewise refused to eat.

Charles Evans Hughes returns to the Supreme court as chief justice, at President Hoover's request. In him the people have a brilliantly able man, worthy to take Mr. Taft's place.

And from Mr. Hughes' acceptance of the position you learn that honor and opportunity to be useful are more important than financial profit.

Mr. Hughes gives up a private law practice worth more than $500,000 a year for the small salary and great opportunity of the Supreme bench.

Chicago's Retail Advertising Institute is told that American women spend every year fifty-three billion dollars.

A million is a great deal. A thousand millions is a very great deal. Fifty-three thousand millions spent by the women in this country is an extraordinary amount of money.

The rich, in this happy land, very happy for some, are richer than they ever were. The Treasury department tells you there were 496 Americans in 1925 with annual incomes above $1,000,000. The total on which they paid income tax was one thousand and seventy-three millions.

And, as you know, this represents only a fraction of the really big incomes. There are men with incomes above one hundred millions each. Their money is in great corporations. The latter re-invest their earnings and bond stock dividends instead of cash to the big controlling stockholders. On such dividends, in accordance with Supreme court decision, the really rich men pay no income tax.

One man, with much more than a hundred millions income, paid, as shown in reports once published, only six millions income tax. Without the stock dividend device he would have paid forty millions at least. A lot of salary earners and professional men made up the difference.

Of the supermillionaires, twenty-four have more than five millions a year each. With all that money you would expect to hear of some remarkable and interesting things done, but money and imagination do not often go together. Imagination prevents accumulation.

For brains and ingenuity there are always openings and success. What is wanted is something that will give a decent living to any man or woman willing to do honest work. Even the average man has a right to live, or should have. (©, 1930, by Fictitious Syndicate, Inc.)

The Bethel Reformed church choir enjoyed a sleigh ride Tuesday evening. After the sleigh ride they all returned to the church basement where the following program was given: Piano duet by Mrs. Tanis and Mrs. Koppelaar; comical reading on the Labor Situation by Gerit Bax; solo by Fred Plomp, accompanied by Miss Georgiana McKenna; M. Bax and Mrs. Kool next gave the budget; Mr. Vander Sluis, choir director, made a few remarks, after which he led the entire group in 15 minutes of singing. Rev. Tanis then spoke and closed with prayer. A social hour was then enjoyed and a dainty luncheon was served.

Six Cylinder Sentences

By DR. JOHN W. HOLLAND

Ease is a great breeder of disease. The only man who fears the law is he who desires to break it. The way for a man to make himself last is to put first things first. Ingrown nails, sympathies, or religion, are painful monstrosities. Do not allow your distinguished ancestors to extinguish your ambitions. FENVILLE PLANNING
GREAT THINGS FOR TAKING CARE OF FRUIT

The following is a contribution from the special writer, Rannels, in the Grand Rapids Press.

Fruit packing warehouses in the future are to be more than places where apples and pears are graded. They are destined to become beauty parlors for these luscious fruits. Speakers at the midwinter meeting of the Michigan State Horticultural society in Fennville Saturday indicated it is becoming very impolite for the apple and pear to go to market with "dirty" faces. Before these fruits leave the shipping points, they should have their faces washed so they may look their prettiest when they are placed on review alongside the orange and the grapefruit in consuming markets.

Many orchardists, however, cannot understand why they should have to wash their fruit before shipment. They have been growing apples for half a century or more, and the suggestion that they wash the fruit seemed ridiculous to them. But Dr. D. F. Fisher, federal horticulturist stationed at Wenatchee, Wash., informed them that it was just another operation demanded by the world market.

"Washed apples and pears make a more attractive pack," Dr. Fisher explained.

Sooner or later, he added, the domestic tolerance for spray residue on fruit is to be reduced to the world tolerance of .01 grain per pound of fruit. The domestic tolerance at present is .0175 grain per pound.

Washing is necessary to bring fruit within these tolerances. Mechanical washers with capacities of 500 to 1,200 bushels a day have been devised for this purpose. Members of the Michigan State Horticultural society saw one of these machines in operation Saturday in the warehouse of the Fennville Fruit exchange.

As the fruit passes through the machine on an endless conveyor a solution of water and hydrochloric acid is sprayed at a pressure of 50 to 90 pounds upon the revolving apples. As the fruit leaves the conveyor an air blast blows the moisture from the apples.

Various methods of washing fruit were described by Dr. Fisher. Some were said to be more practicable than others. The fruit can be cleaned best and easiest at harvest time, he explained, before a waxy or oily coating forms upon the skin. The cost can be reduced by placing the operation in large central units when the expense can be spread over a large tonnage.

J. A. Barron, manager of the Fennville Fruit exchange, said it is not going to be a great task to wash apples, but it is going to be rather expensive and disagreeable. The cost was estimated at 1 1/2 to 3 cents a bushel.

This expense is partly offset, it was explained, by a larger percentage of the fruit making the higher priced grades after washing.

Ezekiel 27: The wealth and glory of Tyre and the prophesied fall of that ancient city. The chapter concludes thus:

Thy rowers have brought thee into great waters: the east wind hath broken thee in the midst of the seas. Thy riches, and thy fairs, thy merchandise, thy mariners, and thy pilots, thy carriers, and the occupiers of thy merchandise, and all thy men of war, that are in thee, and in all thy company which is in the midst of thee, shall fall into the midst of the seas in the day of thy ruin. The suburbs shall shake at the sound of the cry of thy pilots.

And all that handle the oar, the mariners, and all the pilots of the sea, shall come down from their ships, they shall stand upon the land; and shall cause their voice to be heard against thee, and shall cry bitterly, and shall cast up dust upon their heads, they shall wallow themselves in the ashes; and they shall make themselves utterly bald for thee, and gird them with sackcloth, and they shall weep for thee with bitterness of heart and bitter walling.

And in their walling they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, saying, What city is like Tyre, like the destroyed in the midst of the sea? When thy wares were forth out of the sea, thou filledst many people; thou didst enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise. In the time when thou shalt be broken by the seas in the depth of the waters thy merchandise and all thy company in the midst of thee shall fall. All the inhabitants of the isles shall be astonished at thee, and their kings shall be sore afraid, they shall be troubled in their countenance. The merchants among the people shall hiss at thee; thou shalt be a terror, and never shalt be any more. (Compiled by the Bible Guild.)

SHERIFF'S SON FINDS SOLACE
IN SMOKING ANTIQUE PIPE THAT DATES BACK SOME 200 YEARS

An antique about 200 years old is daily used by the sheriff's office by Marcus Skeetes, a son of the sheriff. It is an old Arabian smoking pipe brought to this country by Jacob Marcus of Grand Rapids, the great grandfather of Marcus Skeetes, for whom he was named.

The old pipe, which was being complacently smoked when the eye of a reporter was attracted to it, looks like a small vase topped with a small porcelain receptacle which holds as well as the designed. The part that resembles a vase is filled with water and the long tube attached draws the smoke through the water, delightfully cooled for the smoker's fancy. Jacob Marcus, who lives in Grand Rapids, is 87 years old. He has traveled the world over as a young man, sailing from Holland, and is a natural curiosity seeker. He is still employed in a furniture factory in Grand Rapids inspecting veneer for nine hours a day.

He has given his namesake other interesting things, among them a lead pencil which he claims is fully 200 years old and which has been used in the family by careful thrifty members so that about one-half of the lead still remains. The lead is very soft and incased in a wooden tube bare of any ornamental eraser or lettering. A jack-knife, made in 1703 with a blue steel blade three and one-half inches long is another relic that, "it wouldn't pay to fool with," said the owner.

Marcus has a trunk filled with relics about which many interesting stories can be told, but as to their origin and the source from where they came. It is a hobby with this old man and he is willing many of them to this great grandson.

Drukker, one time pastor of the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church, and received his early education in Holland.

C. E. Officers Plan
Meeting in March

Will Discuss the Directing of State Convention Due Here in Latter Part of June

— Hope College Anchor — Continuing its stated policy of awarding publicity in proper proportion to all departments of campus activity, the "Anchor" takes pleasure this week in announcing the latest plans of the Holland Christian Endeavor Union relative to the State Convention of this group to be held in this city the last-week of next June. The most recent move has been the planning of a meeting of the state officers to be held in Holland on March 8th and 9th, for the purpose of discussing the convention's management. This committee meeting will bring together the otherwise widely scattered executive body of the C. E. organization, permitting an informal forming of a satisfactory convention schedule.

Hope College is closely connected with the plans and purposes of the Christian Endeavor, since the aims of both are intimately allied. Several of the campus leaders in student religious affairs will be active for the next few months while the local C. E. Union prepares for the convention. Lodging and entertainment must be secured for the delegates for the June meeting, and since the number attending will be about 1,000, the local Union's officers have their work laid out for them in securing the necessary homes.

In charge of the committee meeting on March 8th and 9th, and also in charge of the entire convention's local contacts, will be a Hope College student, Lambert Olgers of the senior class. He is now president of the Holland Union, and is working with Mr. E. Marks, State Secretary, in the preliminary plans for June's meet. Mr. Marks, of Detroit, is the full-time official of the organization. Mr. Richard Vande Bunte, of Jamestown, is head of the Michigan combined Unions.

Of the local officers, Raymond McGilvra, of the junior class, is vice-president; Howard Scholten, senior class, is treasurer; and Anna Koeman, junior class, is secretary. At present these people are directing a series of monthly meetings bringing together the C. E. societies of Holland, Hamilton, and Central Park, for the purpose of gradually shaping interest in the State Convention.

Last June Dr. E. Dimment, president of Hope College, intimated to the C. E. officers that the Memorial Chapel would be an appropriate meeting place for an inspirational gathering such as the coming convention. Much hope is being based on the strength of this generous offer, for if it is fulfilled Hope College will receive an unlimited amount of favorable publicity among the type of young people that she takes pride in fostering.

WOULD ALSO APPLY TO OUR STATE PARK

Grand Rapids Press.—Grand Haven might find it advisable to clear the parking oval at the state park when a sight like the present "icebergs" in the lake is attracting scores of winter tourists. News of these towering ice fabrications brought many Grand Rapids tourists to the park Sunday, only to discover that the city snowplows had stopped short on both the back and channel roads. There was neither a way into the parking space nor a place to turn around and a serious congestion prevented some tourists from making their way out for an hour.

If the state can see no advantage in keeping the oval cleared as a means of encouraging winter pleasure tours the city would likely find it profitable to do so on its own account.

FATHER DOUGLAS SECURES
CONVENTION FOR PINE LODGE

Pine Lodge is becoming more popular each year where religious gatherings from other churches as well as the Reformed church come together. Father D. D. Douglas of Grace church, Holland, has completed arrangements for the holding of the annual convention of the young people of the Diocese of Grand Rapids, at The Lodge, June 21-22. The arrangement was gone into by the Board of Religious Education in Grand Rapids. A large delegation of church dignitaries came to Holland to visit Pine Lodge in order to see whether the accommodations were ample and these were found to be so satisfactory that the arrangement was made. Before this body met elsewhere in the state, but favor a lake town with resort facilities.

Pine Lodge officials will soon have a building plan underway for more buildings and added accommodations that will make this "water place" still more popular with organizations of this kind. Mr. Douglas deserves to be thanked for remembering Holland in his efforts to secure this large meeting for our locality.

Purdue To Debate
Against Hope Trio

Latest Debates Show Victory Over Alma, Defeat at Kalam.

On the 21st of February our affirmative team travels to Adrian for a debate with the college there, while the negation will meet the Affirmatives of Western Teacher's College of Kalamazoo. The 28th of this month will witness a dual debate with Calvin. A recent interesting addition to the schedule is a debate with the affirmative team of Purdue University, to be held in Holland. We are indeed fortunate in procuring a match with this outstate club, especially since they represent a school of a high calibre. Hope's debaters appreciate very much the evident interest and hearty support of the student body. Their efforts in behalf of Hope merit the continuance of this co-operation.

Hope College opened its debating season officially last Friday evening when her representatives in argument met teams from Alma and Kalamazoo Colleges. The affirmative men of Hope: G. Huebner, J. Vander Kolk, and L. Hogenboom were victorious in their debate with Mrs. Rudock, Harvard, and Moore, the representatives of Alma.

The negative team lost to Kalamazoo College in a close contest which was held at Kalamazoo. Coach Hance of Olivet gave the decision. Hope was represented by Mrs. Noble, Bast, and VerHey.

It is just 15 years ago that the hoof and mouth disease was so prevalent around Fillmore and farm after farm was denuded of cattle and pigs. That sure was a nightmare for this vicinity.

The P. M. passenger to Allegan got stuck near May a few days ago because of ice and snow and shovellers from the vicinity loosed up the train sent on its way with passengers rejoicing.

Henry J. Kleinhessel states that he is not a candidate for supervisor at the primaries in March. There is a rumor among the people of Fillmore township that he is a candidate for supervisor but this is not true.

In 1865. In those days newspapers turned the rules of their paper upside down, making the sheet black with mourning. The New York paper owned by Mrs. Hagelskamp is just that way. The paper gives full details of how John Wilkes Booth, noted actor starring in "American Cousin," stole into the president's box, shot Mr. Lincoln and then jumped from the box onto the stage where he fell and broke his leg but was able to limp to a horse at the stage door and make his escape until captured in a barn. It also tells of the martyred president's death early the next morning in a home not far from the theater where he was shot. The paper gives a description of how Mr. Lincoln fell forward as the bullet entered his temple and how Mrs. Lincoln fell in a faint and describes the commotion in the "play house" after the shooting took place. It might be well to add that the late Peter Gust of Holland, who died about a year ago, saw the shooting of President Lincoln and was one of the bodyguards who accompanied the body to its last resting place.

THE ELMHURST COLLEGE GLEE CLUB IS TO SING AT CARNEGIE HALL

The Young Men's Bible class of the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church is sponsoring the coming of the Elmhurst College Glee club, one of the finest singing organizations composed of male voices to be found in the country. The club has a wonderful repertoire of musical numbers and in Holland next Wednesday night an exceptional program has been arranged. The concert is to be given in Carnegie hall on the evening of February 19, beginning at 8 o'clock sharp and tickets can be secured at the Fris News stands or at the door.

The Bible class is backing up this concert since the proceeds are to go to a very worthy cause in support of the Cutlerville Psychopathic hospital.

The Banner, a well known church paper, says the following: "Naturally an audience which has been listening to such wonderful choirs as St. Olaf is disposed to be just a bit critical of other organizations of the same nature. But the Capella choir to which many of us listened last year taught us that all honor to one field can nevertheless go to just one group, regardless of its excellence. We have read some of the reviews of the programs rendered by the Elmhurst club and were deeply impressed. J. W. Mossman wrote in the Rock Island Argus last December that 'it was one of the finest glee club concerts that the tri-city has ever heard.' Elmer Douglass, music critic of the Chicago Tribune—naturally no novice—wrote as follows on December 25, 1928: 'The Elmhurst College Men's Glee Club, John Minnema directing, specializes in the study and performance of ancient church music and German and Italian chorals. Examples of these were presented last evening. I cannot reproduce the solemnity, the cathedral-like atmosphere that was created during this concert. The choral 'O, That I Had a Thousand Voices,' by Mentzer, touched me with its beauty and the depth of its religious feeling. The commendable restraint with which the fifty young men of this club sang had much to do with the mass effect in the concert.'

Five high schools, located in nearby cities, have decided to form an athletic league which it is hoped will ultimately include all of Western Michigan. Holland, Muskegon, Benton Harbor, Muskegon Heights and Grand Haven are the charter members of the league, while Battle Creek and Kalamazoo are still undecided whether to join this league, or the Eastern group.

Coaches M. L. Hinga and Rex Chapman attended the meeting at Kalamazoo, with the principal of the local high school, J. J. Reimersma, accompanying them.

The purpose of the new league is to stimulate rivalry. The events can be better controlled and conducted with a uniform code of by-laws. These will be drawn up at the March meeting of the league. The relations between the schools will be improved, and new departments of athletics established, such as golf and tennis. Both of these fields have been entered previously by Holland High, usually resulting in victory for Holland. It is hoped that the next year's basketball season will see the complete inauguration of the league's plans.

The "As You Like It" club, held their third mid-winter party Wednesday evening at the Knights of Pythias hall. Mrs. Marvin Lindeman was chairman of the committee in charge and a very nice program was worked out. The grand march began at 9 o'clock and the unmasking took place at 10 o'clock. Arthur Visscher and James Klompars were awarded prizes for the best costumes. Refreshments were served at 10:30 and the rest of the evening was spent in dancing and playing cards.

A narrow escape was made at the farm home of Mrs. George Schumaker, eight miles south of Holland, when a 220-gallon pressure tank exploded in the basement of the home. The explosion tore up the floor above and demolished some of the furniture on the first floor. Mrs. Schumaker, a widow, and son, Irvin, were at home at the time but neither was injured.

A training school for those interested in Newswriting in Ottawa County has been arranged by Esther C. Lott, Home Demonstration Agent, for Feb. 20 at Grand Haven. The school which will be conducted by James Hasselman, Michigan State College Publicity Director and Muriel Dundas, Home Economics Extension Publicity Specialist, is intended to give special instruction in Principles of Newswriting to the Secretaries of the Home Economics Extension groups in the County and to 4-H Club Publicity Chairmen. The meeting will be held from 10:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. at the Court House and any person in Ottawa County interested in Newspaper writing is invited to attend. The importance of newswriting is given considerable emphasis in the conducting of Extension work throughout the County. According to surveys made by representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Extension Division, one-third of the total number attending Extension Meetings are reached through the newspaper. Publicity articles through the local papers have been found to prove more valuable than circular letters or bulletins in inducing men and women to adopt improved practices in Home Economics and in Agriculture, according to studies made in several Counties throughout the State.

Allegan Resident Tho' 90 Celebrates 21st Birthday

Although he has observed only 21 birthday anniversaries, John Watkins McFarland Parks, Allegan county resident, will enter the venerable category of nonagenarians, providing, of course, the invisible sceptor of Death allows the tottering gentleman to reach another milestone in his life the end of this month. Whether it is the end of this month or the beginning of next is the question that has been puzzling Mr. Parks ever since the days in his youth when a birthday was the occasion for spankings, "bumps" and other rough treatment saved by the presents from friends and kin.

For Mr. Parks is one of the cases affected by leap year. He was born Feb. 29, 1840, in a little Clinton village near St. Johns, one of a family of 13 children. He is the only one of the 13 living. When he was 12 years old his mother died. His father remarried and four more children came to this union.

All Mr. Parks' life he has been a farmer and carpenter. He retired in 1911 when he moved to Allegan from his farm in Cheshire township, Allegan county. After living on a farm near Cheshire, the family moved to Chicago, where they lived 17 years. From there they moved to Cheshire and finally to Allegan.

ALLEGAN BANK DEPOSITORS TO GET FOURTH 10%

J. Garver Bly, receiver of the defunct First National Bank of Allegan, states that he has asked permission of the comptroller of the currency in Washington to make another ten-per-cent dividend payment. If permission is granted, which it probably will be, it will take about a month to get the checks ready, and he asks that former depositors wait until they get notice before calling for their checks. This will make the fourth ten-per-cent payment, and Mr. Bly says that he has hope of making one more, or perhaps ten per cent, making a total of fifty per cent, which is considerably more than most people had hoped for after finding the condition the bank was in at the time of its closing. Depositors naturally are pleased at the satisfactory manner that Bly has handled these bank affairs after the failure.

The widespread custom of giving vent to operatic spasms in one's bathtub is such a universal pastime that a song has been written about it.

One of the most uproarious numbers in "Show of Shows," Warner Brothers Vitaphone super-revue in technical color which comes to the Colonial theater Mon., Tues., Wed., next, present a huge bathroom in which Winnie Lightner, musical comedy and screen star, sings, supported by Bull Montana and a male chorus of fifty. Ned Washington, Michael Cleary, and Herb Magidson of Warner Bros., song-writing staff are the composers of "Singin' in the Bathtub" with which the comely Bull serenades Winnie.

Others among the scores upon scores of stars of footlights and films who contribute to the mammoth "The Show of Shows" are John Barrymore, Dolores Costello, Monte Blue, Beatrice Lillie, George Carpentier, Ted Lewis, Frank Fay, Irene Bordino, Myrna Loy, Grant Withers, Noah Berry and Betty Compton. Over five hundred are in the ensembles.

In many ways the Annual Banquet of the Holland Chamber of Commerce at the Masonic Temple, Friday evening, was one of the most pleasing in a long time. The menu served by the "Masonic Ladies" was par excellence and served piping hot which in itself was a pleasing feature.

The music by Van Duren's orchestra was full of "pop" and put life in the party immediately and

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE VOTES FOR DIRECTORS

At the Chamber of Commerce Annual Banquet it is customary to vote for five directors for a term of two years. Last Friday the vote stood as follows: Votes cast, 127; the first five highest were named: Dick Boter.....91
Frank Dyke.....80
Andrew Klomparsens.....76
Isaac Kouw.....73
J. H. Hoover.....63
Thomas Robinson.....57
H. S. Correll.....57
Cecil Huntley.....56
V. L. Dibble.....46
Dr. R. H. Nichols.....43

The hold overs of last year: Arthur W. Wrieden, Vaudie Vandenberg, Mayor Ernest C. Brooks, Milo De Vries, Frank M. Lieverse, Wynand Wichers, and Secretary Cross.

the extras by three young men playing jointly on three marimbas, was a revelation as far as the musical novelty numbers were concerned. The three lads were Geo. De Gloppe, Donald Kramer and Victor Notter.

Miss Ruth Keppel always pleases her audience with her wonderful repertoire of violin numbers and she was materially aided by an able accompanist at the piano, namely Mrs. Herold J. Karsten.

Directly after the vote had been taken naming five directors (results elsewhere) President Dick Boter called the gathering to order and stated that the Holland C. of C. was in excellent condition, but he said: "I do not want to take credit for this wonderful condition. Our former president, Mr. Wynand Wichers, took office two years before when the organization was saddled with a load of debt that was staggering. When I assumed office this debt had practically been cleared away and we started out with a clean slate. I never could have made the showing but for the splendid start and the wonderful cooperation received afterward from the directors and other officials and the good will of the body of men who now are members."

Mr. Boter then introduced the guests of the evening present. One guest in particular was Geo. Hunt, an old Holland citizen, who is now a high official in the Pere Marquette official body. When George's name was mentioned he was given a hearty round of applause. It might be well to mention here that 40 years ago Mr. Hunt was the ticket agent at this station when the road was still the Chicago and West Michigan. And by the way, he was the best dressed man in town and married a Holland girl by the name of Miss Kate Herold of Graves Place from one of the old pioneer families of this city.

Mrs. Boter then called upon Mayor Ernest Brooks, who is treasurer, and the happy mayor in his pleasing manner gave the following report: On March 9, 1929, there was a cash balance of $81.12. Receipts since that time have been: memberships, $7,068.50; Ottawa County Park Fund, $615; booklet sales, $102.15; directory ads, $100; and miscellaneous, $24.50; which brings the total to $7,889.27. Disbursements for the year included the secretary's salary, $2,180.44; printing, $375.43; advertising, $727.58; Ottawa County Park fund, $1,500; and other items for the various expenses made up the total of $7,458.79. This left a balance on hand for Dec. 1, 1929, of $530.48. Mr. Brooks' report was well received with a round of applause.

Secretary Charles Gross was next introduced and he interspersed his remarks with a few pleasing "take offs," then read several letters and telegrams of regret including one from former Senator William Alden Smith, who with Mrs. Smith are now on their way to California and also from "Nat" Robbins, Sr., of Grand Haven, who with Mrs. Robbins left that same night for Florida.

Mr. Gross also stated that a complete report of the activities of the Holland Chamber of Commerce was found in full, printed in the Bulletin at each cover. This interesting report of six columns was published in full in the last issue of the Holland City News.

Toastmaster Boter then proceeded to introduce Lachlan Macleay, the speaker of the evening, who devoted nearly an hour to his "waterway" discourse.

He pointed out that the Illinois Waterway will connect the Great Lakes with 9,000 miles of navigation on inland rivers comprising the Mississippi Valley system. It will furnish manufacturers in Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, and Michigan an all water route, with low cost services, to domestic and foreign markets which they now reach under serious handicaps, if at all. The adoption by Congress of the Illinois as a Federal project, at this session, will mean that river transportation services in co-ordination with Lake Michigan lines can begin to serve business when lake and river navigation opens in 1931.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS AND BUSINESS MEN DISCUSS CARFERRY SITUATION

Pere Marquette railroad officials and about 20 local business men who are interested in railroad facilities, met last week Friday evening before the Chamber of Commerce banquet. The officials were also shown Holland harbor by Austin Harrington, chairman of the harbor committee.

Charles A. Gross, secretary of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, said that discussion of the carferry situation brought out the information that if and when a southern terminal is built, Holland will be given due consideration.

This city has a most ideal location for a ferry going to Milwaukee. Holland harbor is closer to the "Cream City" by several miles than any other Western Michigan lake port town. The railroad connections, too, are ideal from Detroit and east. Holland has been having the "carferry bee" for a good many years and it appears now that something might come of it with the proper pressure brought to bear.

ment in the history of the United States is now taking place in the South and the Southwest states. Tremendous development of natural resources, great increase in crop production, rapid growth in population and wealth, enormous new building programs, and startling increases in the growth of commercial and industrial markets are making this part of our country a very desirable and attractive domestic trade territory.

The speaker said that much of the trade that the Central States formerly had on the Pacific Coast and in foreign markets on the Pacific, South America, Australia, the Orient, and the far East was taken from us when the Panama Canal opened and rates from Atlantic Coast ports to the Pacific were made so low in comparison with our rail rates to the coast, that we were unable to compete successfully with New York, New England, and Pacific Coast manufacturers. If we are ever to recapture this trade or any considerable part of it, we must first secure lower transportation costs.

Mr. Macleay holds that the Illinois Waterway is our lead into these three great world trade areas, and so far as we can see there is no other possible agency or route that can so nearly equalize our costs in getting to these markets. The true interests, the real commercial dollars and cents trade interests, of the port cities on Lake Michigan should stimulate their public bodies, their press and their representatives in Congress to support the Federalization of this most important waterway and its prompt completion and use in the public service. Our Eastern competition has coastwise ocean freight services to Gulf and Texas ports, with rates so low that we are shut out of markets as far north as Tennessee, Arkansas and Oklahoma. They also have direct ocean services to the Pacific and to South America. It is time for us to forget local jealousies, to adjust local misunderstandings, and join in a powerful effort to free ourselves from the restrictions of the high freight rate fence which now surrounds us and which puts such drastic limits on our sales territory.

In closing the speaker said: "The Mississippi Valley Association, in working to secure this great national improvement, is not serving a selfish interest. It is working for the good fortune of the Valley public. It represents a desire on the part of a great people for an internal improvement that is national in its scope and effect and is vital to the economic growth and development of this greatest of all valleys, the Food Shop, the Natural Resource Storehouse and the Work Shop of America."

The program on buff paper was printed in two colors, with outline cuts of smoking factories, steamship steamboats and puffing railroad trains indicating that it was a banquet given over to transportation and manufacturing problems.

Secretary Charles Gross had included in the program his definition of "A Citizen." Here it is:

A CITIZEN

A Good Citizen looks after his own family.

A Patriotic Citizen does his duty to the government by obeying its laws.

A God-fearing Citizen does his duty to his church and his Creator. The Public Spirited Citizen—the Complete Citizen—neglects neither his family, his government, his church nor his community.

STATE POLICE BUSY IN OTTAWA—ARREST MANY OVER WEEK-END

The state police of Ottawa county picked up a long list of drivers over the week-end who had violated the motor vehicle law one way or another. They will be arraigned to trial in the several counties they patrol. The list includes Bernard Westerhof, Holland, no tail light and no operator's license; L. E. Ray, New Era, carrying 1929 license plates; Floyd Grover, Whitehall, one head light, no tail light and no operator's license; W. Chapman, Montague, George Settler, Muskegon, driving with spotlight and no operator's license; Ralph Zerns, Muskegon Heights, one head light and no tail light, and Douglas Klenke, Muskegon, no head light.

The state and county officers combined in a raid at the home Saturday night of Mrs. Albert Almon, Grand Haven, where John Lyons, Everett Kimball, Dick Lyon claimed to have bought a half-pint of liquor.

The officers failed to find any evidence of liquor at the home and the raid was unsuccessful. Albert Almon is serving 60 days in the county jail for a similar offense, having been sentenced in the last circuit court term.

Dick Lyons, who failed to appear after he was arrested in Oct. 1928, was recognized by Justice C. E. Burr and put on probation pending further action for the old offense. Lyons is a former Holland man.

WELL KNOWN ARTIST GOES TO SOUTH AMERICA

Carl Andersch of Grand Rapids, well known in musical circles in Holland, left Sunday for a South American cruise. The party will sail from New York to Cuba and from there through the Panama canal to the Pacific, touching all cities along the coast of Peru and Chili. From Valparaiso they will cross the continent to Buenos Aires and visit the cities of the east coast. The entire trip will last about 10 weeks, and Mr. Andersch expects to resume his classes about May 1. Mr. Andersch was at one time connected with Hope college school of music and has appeared here in musical entertainments.

OTTAWA COUNTY BOYS CROP OF EARS GET RECOGNITION AT CORN EXHIBIT

Hiram Yntema, one of Ottawa county's outstanding young corn growers, placed sixth on his fifty ear exhibit of yellow corn at the State grain show during Farmers' Week. The exhibit was the largest ever held and competition was exceedingly keen.

Ottawa County boys won high places in the potato club exhibit at the State College during Farmers' Week. Competing with the entire state, Tim Modderman from Lamont was awarded third on White Rural potatoes and Bernard Culligan, Coopersville, fourth and Leonard Westrate, Dennison, award of merit on Irish Cobbler potatoes. In all there were about 250 entries of potatoes made by club boys throughout the state.

As this is the first year Ottawa County has entered such competition, agricultural agent Milham is highly elated at the showing made by the boys. Mr. Milham is planning on organizing more potato clubs this year, hopes to organize some corn and poultry clubs in addition to the ever popular calf clubs for boys. Communities desiring to organize clubs should inform the agent and start planning now in order to secure good seed or stock. All clubs should be organized before April 1st.

OTTAWA COUNTY NURSE A VERY BUSY PERSON

A meeting of the County Welfare committee was held in the Red Cross room, City Hall, in Holland Tuesday morning to hear the report of work done by the County Nurse, Madge Bresnahan, since September first.

A summary of the work shows 266 visits of instruction, investigations, etc., 187 school visits. 101 children inspected, of this number 52 were found to have defects and 10 had defects corrected; 18 were excluded from school because of skin infection, pediculosis and symptoms of communicable diseases; 45 classroom talks were given; 45 samples of school drinking water were collected and sent to the state laboratory for examination, 7 were found to be not safe for drinking purposes.

The present health program for the county includes immunization against diphtheria, which has taken up most of the nurse's time. So far 1,019 children have been immunized and it is planned to continue the campaign until the close of the school year.

Miss Bresnahan gave health talks at four PTA meetings; county teachers and PTA meeting and Zeeland Study Club.

RABBI WATERMAN SPEAKS TO WOMEN

The program of the Woman's Literary club Tuesday was one of the most outstanding of the year. At this time Rabbi Philip F. Waterman, noted lecturer and author of Grand Rapids spoke to the ladies on the subject, "The History of Superstition."

The music was in charge of Mrs. A. H. Landwehr and was furnished by the Holland High School Boys Glee club, under the direction of Eugene F. Heeter.

President Otto P. Kramer of the Holland City State bank has returned from a business trip to Chicago.

"Tulip Time in Holland" Calls For Mayor Brooks

SAUGATUCK WOMAN SAID HE WAS MOST SUITABLE AND POPULAR PERSON TO SPEAK

The Saugatuck Commercial Record in its report of the Saugatuck Woman's Club program tells about the doings in the neighboring village and why Mayor Brooks was selected as the speaker. They also include Minister Diekema in the write-up which follows:

Saugatuck Commercial Record: Those who were not in attendance at the Woman's club last Friday were unfortunately indeed as they missed an afternoon's program of unusual interest and merit.

The subject of the day, "Tulip Time in Holland," was unique in itself and many wondered just how Mrs. Russell Valteau would handle it, and in her usual way she kept very quiet about it, though we knew she had some treat in store for us, which she certainly did.

Mrs. Valteau gave a very interesting talk which included data about tulips and tulip planting; she also spoke of the old Holland with its windmills and dykes and the unusual interest we felt in the Netherlands now that our neighbors, Hon. Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Diekema, were representing us in that country.

Mrs. Kenneth Martin charmed us with her singing, "If Winter Comes, Summer Will Come Again," by Tennant; she responded to an unusual applause by singing "Philosophy," which put everyone in a happy mood.

Mrs. Valteau then introduced Mayor Ernest Brooks of Holland. She said she chose Mayor Brooks because he is Holland's youngest, most popular and hardest working mayor and also because he knows tulips. She was right, he does know tulips and told us about the future plans for that attractive city when next spring 250,000 bulbs would come forth with beautiful coloring. He himself planted 10,000 at his home in Holland.

Mr. Brooks is a most pleasing speaker and his audience was rapt in attention as he spoke of Saugatuck's natural beauties, but he said each town should specialize in some one thing for which it would be remembered long after the guest or tourist had departed. Thus Holland is gaining repute for its "Tulip Time," St. Joseph for its "Blossom Time," Traverse City for cherries and so on, and while perhaps tourists are Saugatuck's special asset just now, still he urged us to use our civic assets to build a city beautiful and let beauty be our best asset—plant flowers on all vacant spots, beautify our river banks and let each one do his or her bit. He said, "If you work in a town, work for it; if you live in a town, live for it, and it can't but develop into the kind of a town you want it to be."

Miss Beatrice Johnson and Mrs. Frank Douma added much to the afternoon's pleasure with their singing "Tiptoe Through the Tulips With Me," and "Springtime in the Rockies," while Miss Genevieve Wright gave two beautiful piano solos from Beethoven and Selim Palmgren which were a fitting closing of this splendid afternoon.

FARMERS SHOULD EAT MORE OF THEIR OWN WARES, REPORTS ALLEGAN COUNTY FARM AGENT

By A. D. Morley

Farmers of Allegan county must win a race with time if they hope to receive an income from dairying in 1930 that compares with the figure of previous years, the National Dairy Congress pointed out this week.

The great danger of the present surplus of dairy products, they said, lies in its continuance. If it lasts until May, the beginning of the flush period of production, the price the farmer will receive for his dairy products during the most productive period of the year will be far below what it was in 1929.

"While this surplus will be dangerous unless removed, it can be very easily and successfully relieved," the Congress believes. "All food authorities agree that we are not eating as much of dairy products as we should in the interest of our health. If some of our farmers are not eating butter now, they should begin at once in the interest of health and a stabilized industry. Nothing takes the place of butter on bread or in cooking."

In the transition from the farm of twenty-five years ago to the modern farm of today, personal health is the important factor which has been overlooked in the agricultural set-up of today. In marketing his dairy products, so necessary for best health and vigor, the farmer has used less butter, milk and cream at his own table. Such is the opinion of the Dairy Congress.

"One of the best things about the 'good old days' was the liberal use of common everyday foods—bread, plenty of butter, milk, cheese, and garden vegetables. When Grandmother reigned in the kitchen, melted butter was added to vegetables to make them tasty just as a matter of course. The big blue pitcher of milk always had its place at the end of the table—and it held a glass for each one of the family. Curds with cream was a popular breakfast dish. Cakes were always made delicious with butter. Cookies, better made because they were butter-made, filled the cookie jar."

"Dairy products were used abundantly in Grandfather's day, because they cost nothing but the labor. But they are economical today, too, because they are essential to health."

"Today, instead of trying to find a substitute for these home products—milk, cream, and butter—Grandmother's example is the best one to follow, both from the standpoint of health and prosperity, without mentioning flavor."

LINCOLN HAD BIG IDEAS

THE POOR BOY who was born in a Kentucky log cabin and later split rails for a living might have lived and died in obscurity but for one thing—BIG IDEAS. It was Big Ideas that sent Lincoln to the White House. Big Ideas that captured the West in a network of railroads. Big Ideas that achieve every success.

The man with Big Ideas uses every ethical weapon. And greatest of these is the power of the Bank. We stand ready with cash and counsel to aid in development of every Big Idea. Tell us all about yours.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for February 16

JESUS HEALING AND HELPING

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 9:1-13. GOLDEN TEXT—Himself took our infirmities and bore our sicknesses.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Healing and Helping. JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Healing and Helping.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus the Friend of the Needy. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus Meeting Human Needs.

1. Jesus Heals a Leper (8:1-4). 1. The dreadful disease (v. 2). Leprosy, the most loathsome and hopeless disease known, in the Jewish ritual, was regarded as a symbol of sin. As leprosy was incurable by man, so only the divine physician could cure sin.

2. The leper's faith (v. 2). His cry was most pitiable, but his faith was strong. He fully believed that Jesus was able, but not certain that He was willing to heal him.

3. Jesus' power (v. 3). He put forth His hand and touched the leper, bidding the disease depart, and instantly the man was cleansed.

4. Jesus Heals the Centurion's Servant (8:5-13). 1. The disease (v. 6). The victim of paralysis is helpless and disqualified for service.

2. The centurion's humility (v. 8). He first sent the Jewish elders and then his friends (Luke 7:3-6), because he felt his unworthiness. The case of this servant was so grave that his master brushed aside his timidity and personally appealed to Jesus.

3. The centurion's faith (vv. 8, 10). He believed that if Jesus would but speak the word, his servant would be healed.

4. The wonderful power of Jesus (v. 13). He did not need even to see the helpless man, but only to speak the word and it was done.

III. Jesus Heals Peter's Mother-in-law (8:14, 15). She was sick of a fever. Jesus was invited into Peter's home to heal this woman. Upon entering the home He touched the hand of the patient and the fever left her, and she arose and ministered unto them.

IV. Jesus Casts Out Demons (8:28-34). After stilling the tempest, Jesus crossed to the other side of the sea into heathen territory.

1. Met by two men possessed by demons (v. 28). These men were in a desperate condition (see Mark 5:1-17 and Luke 8:27). So fierce were they that no one could safely pass that way. They wore no raiment and no chains were strong enough to hold them.

2. What they knew about Christ (v. 29). They knew that He was the Son of God and that He had come to destroy the devil and his work. Among the demon there is no doubt as to the deity of Jesus Christ and as to the judgment to come.

3. Christ's power to deliver from the devil (vv. 30-32). The demons quailed before Him, not daring to dispute His power.

V. Jesus Heals a Woman With an Issue of Blood (9:20-22). 1. Her hopeless condition (v. 20). She had been a great sufferer for twelve long years, not only from the disease, but at the hands of the physicians (Mark 5:26).

2. Her faith (v. 21). Her faith was so strong that she believed contact with the Master's garment would secure the needed help.

3. Her confession (v. 21, cf. Luke 8:47). She thought secretly to get the blessing, but Jesus perceived that virtue had gone out from Him, and had her make a public confession.

4. Christ's words of encouragement (v. 22). He told her that it was her faith, not her touch, that saved her.

VI. Jesus Opening the Eyes of Two Blind Men (9:27-31). 1. Their persistence of faith (v. 28). These poor men had heard of the wonderful works of Jesus. This wrought in them a desire to be healed.

2. The intelligence of faith (v. 27). They cried out to Him as the Son of David, which showed that they recognized Him as the promised Messiah. The prophet had foretold that he would be the works of Messiah (Isa. 29:18; 35:5; 42:7).

3. The challenge of faith (v. 28). In reply to His challenge, they gave Him a definite answer.

4. The triumph of faith (vv. 29, 30). Their faith brought them into touch with the Lord of life who revealed His power by opening their eyes.

Dr. Paul Van Verst of Chicago returned home after spending Sunday with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Van Verst, 222 West 12th.

A class of more than 50 branch managers of the Holland Furnace company is meeting for a week at the Warm Friend Tavern under the direction of Louis F. Allen, sales educational director.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Alderink and Miss Jennie Van Putten of Grand Rapids spent the week-end with Mrs. Jennie Brandams and daughter Annetta.

Borculo also has a very old lady in the person of Mrs. De Haan, who is 94 years old. She has been the guest of Mrs. Sena Klinkenberg, 161 East Sixteenth street, in this city.

Traffic violations, as reported by Chief Van Ry follows: Maurice Raffenaud, blowing horn; Raymond Scheurman, blowing horn and defective lights, $15.45; Mari-on De Jong, defective lights, $15.45.

A joint birthday of two Johns was celebrated Friday evening when friends thoughtfully remembered John C. Van Leeuwen and John Beltman at the home of the latter on Central avenue. Choice refreshments were prepared by the "better halves" of the two "hubs" in whose honor the affair was planned. Those who gathered were Mr. and Mrs. John C. Van Leeuwen and family, Henry Plakke and son Junior, Miss Maggie Van Leeuwen, Mr. and Mrs. John Beltman, Cornelius and Gertrude Beltman.

About one hundred members of the Star of Bethlehem chapter No. 40 met in regular session Thursday evening, held a business session winding up with an indoor picnic in which a campfire and all the embellishments of a regular outing in the woods figured. Chinese lanterns and subdued lights gave a very realistic setting to this unusual picnic. The bathing girls, however, were not mentioned and no doubt this feature was cut from the otherwise summery aspect. The guest gave a shiver upon leaving when they stepped from balmy spring into bitter cold February after-dusk.

Bernard Bosman was agreeably surprised at his home, 194 West Sixteenth street, the occasion being his birthday anniversary. The affair turned into a bridge party in which "Heinie" Geerds and Mrs. Wm. Westrate were prize winners. Mrs. Bosman kept the surprise a "dark secret" until the guests arrived when a real surprise was featured. "A.B.J." was the recipient of a useful token of remembrance from the friends present. Refreshments naturally were a feature. The surprisers were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Van Tongeren, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Geerds, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Geerds, Mr. and Mrs. William Lokker, Dr. and Mrs. William Westrate, and Mr. and Mrs. Vaudie Vandenberg.

GIBSON

E. N. Ebbeson has been looking forward toward warm weather coming and has been busy filling his ice house.

Several members of the Bauhn family motored to Kalamazoo on Sunday to visit relatives, one of whom is very ill.

The "vanishing" teas have extended beyond Saugatuck as far north as Goshorn Lake. Last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Emily Hemwall, Mrs. Anna Miller and Mrs. Lillian Sundin were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Sundin. The ladies from Gibson were Mesdames Anna Welner, Jean Hall, Maud Sundin, Ruth Meyers, Freda Ebbeson, Letitia Woodall and Jane Applegate; Mrs. Dorothy Berg of Saugatuck and Mesdames Jeanette Sundin, J. Steketee, M. Steketee, and D. Steketee of Holland were present also. The ladies enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon which was spent telling stories from real life in addition to several readings. Delicious refreshments were served.

HUDSONVILLE

The central pivot on which the financial interests of Hudsonville and vicinity have revolved the past 18 years is the Hudsonville State bank. Its need was felt many years ago when the local merchants were trying to take care of the increasing demand for some institution wherein their bills of exchange could be taken care of without a trip to Grand Rapids or some other city. Eighteen years ago last fall Fred F. McEachron, recognizing this need, began the promotion of a bank that could meet the increasing demand of the hundreds of growers in the rich muckland surrounding this village. That he was successful is seen by the fact that on Dec. 11, 1911, the bank was opened with a capital stock of $200,000.

FOWLS ON SKIMMILK DO NOT NEED WATER

Also Helps to Take Place of Expensive Purchased Proteins

SKIMMILK DOUBLED EGG PRODUCTION

SKIMMILK provides the protein otherwise lacking in rations usually fed average farm hens, declares the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. Whole grain and mash made up of ground grains are poor egg producers unless proteins—preferably animal protein—is added to the ration. When fowls are given all the skim milk they can consume, they do not need water.

Skim milk again proved to be a better source of animal protein than did tankage in an experimental test of six years duration. The results of this test were displayed for the first time in the official government exhibit at the recent National Dairy Show.

Layers fed corn and wheat as grain, and a mash consisting of bran, shorts and corn meal, laid only 61 eggs per hen per year, which just about paid their feed bill. When other pens of layers were fed the same ration, with tankage added to the mash, the average egg production amounted to 125 eggs per hen per year. But when the same kind of hens were fed the same basic ration of grain and mash, and all the skim milk the hens could drink was provided as the source of animal protein, instead of the tankage, the egg production jumped to 250 eggs per hen.

Skim milk has no equal as an efficient, low-cost egg maker. As the above test shows, it is as valuable as grain as an egg producer when fed with whole and ground grains. It takes the place of both tankage or meat scrap, and water, by supplying the animal protein which is the limiting factor in egg production. Since purchased protein is the most expensive part of any poultry ration, home-mixed or ready-mixed, it pays to provide fowls of all ages with all the skim milk they can consume every day of the year.

GUATEMALA

A Young Maid of Guatemala.

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)

LIKE ancient Gaul, Guatemala may be divided into three parts, with a special brand of climate assigned to each. There are the lowlands of the Atlantic and Pacific—the hot country; the uplands, ranging from 3,000 to 6,000 feet—the temperate land; and the highlands, where fanglike peaks stretch up to 14,000 feet above the sea—the cold country. In Guatemala climate is a thing of altitude rather than latitude.

The American visitor to Guatemala is likely to land at Puerto Barrios, on the Atlantic or Caribbean side of this country. This port, set on the inner rim of Amatique bay, is alluringly beautiful from the steamer. Though one accepts it as a tropical dream come true, it does not bear close inspection. Here is the north coast terminal of the International railways and important buildings of the United Fruit company. Aside from these, Puerto Barrios does not intrigue one as a site for permanent residence, nor is the hotel the type to which one yearns to return.

A few decades ago the Guatemalan government concluded to build a railway connecting its capital and west coast coffee plantations with the north coast markets. When this road was half-finished, both money and credit ran low, leaving a pair of rails beginning at tidewater and ending at a spot in the broad, warm desert surrounding El Rancho. Then an American stepped into the breach, completed the railway, and made it possible for passengers to ride on a well-equipped train from the shipside to most of the population centers of the republic.

First Impressions of Guatemala have to do with countless bunches of green bananas, for this northern fringe of the republic is bananaland. The great fruit farms are recent, and to make them, the low, rich, swampy coastland was drained and made sanitary.

Race Between Time and Decay.

Railways, banana walks, administration buildings, imposing hospitals, modern towns—these have all been built in order that a fleet of vessels may be fed two-score million bunches of bananas yearly. It is efficiency and organization par excellence.

Reduced to its least common denominator, it is a race between time and decay. The cutter, mule carrier, pick-up train, fast steamship, radio, telephone, fruit dispatch, all combine to deliver this highly perishable commodity from the banana farm to the corner store in Iowa before rot overtakes the fruit and turns profit into loss.

We leave bananaland aboard the little train of the International railways and start south. From Quirigua the railroad winds up the Motagua valley through plantations, skirting abrupt hillsides. The train crosses the Motagua river every few kilometers, and, all along the way, passes women standing under palm sheds on the stream banks, washing clothing, children and themselves.

After leaving Zacapa the long climb to Guatemala City begins, over a road that winds in horseshoe curves, up mountainsides, through cuts and tunnels, over fills and bridges. Now and then one glimpses the shingly gravel bars of the Motagua and the brush fishtraps set by the Indians. There are villages where vegetable gardens are built on stilts, and perpendicular cornfields.

And still one climbs, past not sulphur springs with steam clouds curling above them and deep railway cuts through volcanic ash. The air grows chill as the altitude increases. At sunset the profiles of purple peaks stand out against a yellow sky. Then comes night with more chill and finally, below in the plain, the twinkling lights of Guatemala City.

Capital Often Destroyed. Guatemala City is not of the New World. It belongs to Old Spain. It is a city suggestive of the Moors, with narrow streets, varicolored houses, deep-set barred windows, bright patios, porticos and colonnades. Guatemala's capital has always been Valdez's plaything. He has shaken it down, even destroyed it, and has seen it rise again on three different sites.

In 1527 Pedro de Alvarado began the first city on the lower slopes of Agua. In 1541 came a night of torrential rain, lightning, thunder and earth rumblings, then a terrifying shudder. The crater of Agua was torn apart and the lake which filled it rushed down to overwhelm the city.

A new capital, built a few miles to the northeast, in time became one of the most imposing cities of the New World, with splendid palaces and more than 60 impressive church buildings. The old city was but a memory, earthquakes were forgotten, and all seemed well as the new capital grew richer and more powerful. In 1717, with an eruption of Fuego, came an earthquake that leveled the city. Again it was built and again shaken down in 1773, the year of the Boston Tea party.

The capital was again transferred, this time 30 miles away to the site of the present city, and the life of the people moved on until in 1917 came a series of tremblings that first cracked the thick adobe walls and then caused them to crumble. Since 1917 the capital city has again been practically rebuilt, thus illustrating the tenacity with which people cling to homes that have been erected where the shadow of some volcano falls.

The population of the present capital is more than 100,000. The city, set in the midst of the Valley of the Rio de las Vacas (Cow river), is hemmed in by low mountain ridges and a group of imposing volcanoes.

The central plaza is not beautiful now. The earthquake partly ruined the imposing cathedral to the east; the Chinese, as a memorial, have built a number of pagoda-like buildings to the north; the dignified Centennial building occupies another side; and the Portales, with little one-and-two-story shops, complete the quadrangle. It is a curious picture of ruin, dignity, tawdriness and pagodas.

The street paving is none too good. The four-wheel coach, drawn by two dejected steeds, is still the usual mode of conveyance, although the city is full of private motor cars.

On the Mixco Road.

Ten miles away, in the village of Mixco, live the Indians who each day carry to the capital the foodstuffs which they people buy. The road from Mixco to Guatemala City is one of the fascinating moving pictures of Central America. These Indians raise the vegetables, fowls, eggs, and fruits that they sell, and also manufacture the simple necessities of everyday life, such as coarse-woven saddlebags, hempen belts used by the driver to fasten the pack to his animal, women's blouses and girdles, and hundreds of other articles used by housewife, laborer, and ox-driver.

Dawn in Mixco finds everyone up, preparing for the long, daily walk to the market place and back home again. Early risers set out with their wares packed in a broad basket, borne on the head if the carrier be a woman, or if a man, in a canteen carried on the back, with a broad leather tumpline leading from either side of the load about the forehead.

By nine o'clock there is a procession ten miles long, more fascinating, varied, and interesting than any circus parade that ever followed a cat-lope. Women with leathery, wrinkled skin, gray hair, and shriveled bare arms and legs, still trot back and forth on this 20-mile errand each day, carrying to market a crate of eggs, a half dozen fowls, a tray of aguacates, or any one of a hundred things to eat and wear.

Here comes a family. The father bears a heavy load of corn or beans or other vegetables, bending forward under the weight and balancing it with the tumpline. The mother, perhaps, juggles a wide wicker tray of vegetables on her head, while she carries a pair of chickens in either hand and an infant swung in a shawl about her body. A brood of children follows, each laden according to size and capacity. The family dog, anemic, apologetic, is always in the party and frequently wears a necklace of dried lemons to ward off canine ills.

Biology Classes to Hold Exhibit at Masonic Hall

Bird Houses and Posters to Feature Conservation Project Sponsored by High School Department

HASTINGS LECTURER

(Maroon and Orange)

The annual conservation program of the biology students in the local high school this year will culminate during the week of March 17 in a big exhibition of bird houses and posters, to be held in the Masonic Temple.

The big feature of the program will be a birdhouse building contest for all the boys in the public and parochial schools of the city above the fifth grade. This contest may be entered, also, by any boy in the rural schools in the vicinity of Holland. A second contest will be a conservation poster contest for the girls of the biology classes. Three prizes of one dollar, seventy-five cents, and fifty cents, respectively, will be offered in each class. Further prizes of five dollars and two and one-half dollars each will be awarded to the best group of two houses entered, irrespective of class. These prizes are very generously being offered by the three banks of the city.

Besides the bird houses and posters on exhibition at the Masonic Temple during the week of March 17, the display will be supplemented by work on various other phases of conservation exhibited in a number of booths, which will be in charge of committees chosen from the students in the biology classes.

The department has been especially fortunate in securing for that week the services of Mr. Walter Hastings, photographer for the State Department of Conservation. He will be here for three days, showing his wild life films to various groups of students, clubs, and townspeople. Friday will be rural school day when the afternoon showing of pictures will be especially for the pupils, teachers, and patrons of the rural schools.

This program of conservation with its accompanying exhibit is under the supervision of Miss Lida Rogers. For a number of years conservation work has been a feature of the biology department, and each year there have been shown more or less elaborate exhibits of the work done. The first exhibit, which was a bird and birdhouse exhibit only, was held during the spring of 1917.

The houses built each year are erected on the home grounds of the students. Of the houses erected last year forty-two were occupied before school closed in June. The boys find, also, quite a ready sale for the various kinds of houses. During the last two years these sales amounted to $135.25.

Rules for Bird Houses

The following are the rules governing the bird house building contest:

1. Any boy who is a student in the elementary schools of the city above the fifth grade or who is a student in the junior and senior high schools of the city may enter this contest.
2. Any boy who is a student in the rural schools in the vicinity of Holland may make entries in the rural school class.
3. Entries may consist of bird houses, bird baths, feeding devices, cat guards, or cat traps.
4. The work entered must be the work of the student making the entry and must have been made during this school year.
5. The dimensions of the bird houses must conform to the standards recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture.
6. All entries are to be made by grades (year in school), and any student may make as many entries as he wishes.
7. First, second and third prizes will be awarded to the entries in each grade.
8. First, second and third prizes will be awarded to the entries in the rural school class.
9. A further prize of five dollars will be awarded to the best entry in the contest regardless of year, and two and one-half dollars will be awarded to the next best entry.

11. All persons entering the contest must register their entries before February twenty-first and all entries must be in by March fifteenth.
12. This contest is sponsored by the Biology Department of Senior High School and registration blanks may be obtained as needed from the head of the department.

Flashy Work in Friday's Hillsdale Victory Increases Court Confidence

(As told by a player on the squad)

"The Hillsdale team got off to a 6 to 0 lead to open the contest. This lead was slowly cut down until both teams were even. The Hopites were having a little hard luck on their shots, but this did not discourage them. The score during the first half did not vary much either one way or the other. The Hillsdale team jumped into the lead just before the half to hold a 17-15 lead at the intermission.

"Coach Schouten must have whispered some good words to his boys for they came upon the floor with a victorious twinkle in their eyes. This showed itself in a short time with Becker and Spoelstra ringing up the deuces in rapid succession. While Hope was staging this offense movement, C. Van Lente and A. Cook were holding the "Dales" scoreless until near the end of the game, when the visitors were able to count a few points. The Hope team looked great against Hillsdale, and the Hopites were proud of the men who wore their colors. The whole Hope team played well together, with H. Dalman, G. Becker and W. Spoelstra starred offensively, while A. Cook and Capt. C. Van Lente bore the brunt of the defensive burden. The Hillsdale team has great players in Brooks and Restifo. This boy Restifo was as fast as a boy as ever trod the hardwood of Carnegie gym! The final count was Hope 37, Hillsdale 24."

McLean Talks to Campus Y. M. C. A.

On Value of Religious Confidence

Faculty Head of Religious Studies Advises Personal Ventures To Create Morale

E. Paul McLean, Professor of Religious Education, led the Y. M. C. A. last night and left the boys with the feeling that he had said something worth coming to hear. He took for his reference Luke 5:5, "And Simon answering said unto him, Master, we have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing: nevertheless at thy word I will let down the net."

Prof. McLean discussed the technique of suggestion Jesus used in the lives of the disciples to make them successes rather than failures. His technique was obvious, but often it is the obvious truth that escapes us.

"Jesus sent these men back to the very place where they had failed," said the speaker. "There's no use running away from failure — you never can get away from it all. He not only sent them back into the same waters — but more deeply into them. It is necessary, for students who think, to realize that like a ship our safety lies not near the shore, but out in the deep.

"Christ's religion is a venture. Man will never have a great religious experience, and so a great religion, until he leaves off pattering around in the wading pool of thought and strikes out into the deep . . . where he can fill his net, where a sense of intellectual religious satisfaction, security, and success can be found — where one can think great thoughts, and really respect them — where one will find the true Christ!"

Mr. McLean stressed the fact that the religious need of the campus was for men who have failed in finding themselves, to take the technique of Christ, and dare to venture forth into the deep, to think for themselves the deep thoughts of life and religion.

Next week Gordon Alexander of N. Y. will lead the Y. M. C. A. meeting. — Subject, "What If —" The attendance of the men is increasing.

Hope College Pep Reaches Heights Due to Victories

Success on Court, Debate Stage, Glee Clubs, and Other Fields Bolster Unity

DADS' NIGHT FRIDAY

Throbbing at the highest point in the thermometer, Hope College campus "pep" is reaching a degree of white heat not evident for some time. Gradually it is becoming apparent to faculty and students that some unusual urge is in the air. Further evidence of this exists in the plans now being announced for a "Dad's Night" to be held at Friday evening's game. Every Hopeite must invite a male adult, legal father, yea or nay, and bring him to the Kalamazoo game. Girls and boys both are urged to cooperate in this plan of the "Pep" Committee to boost still higher the student and town confidence in the Hope teams.

Band Wins Letters

The password this week is given as "Beat Kazoo!" Thursday evening at 8:30 a mass meeting will be held in the gym, featured by a clever stunt in charge of the "myriad-idea-ed" Olive Peeke, assisted by several others. This pep meeting will last about forty-five minutes, all societies planning to attend after brief business sessions.

Furthermore, the "Pep" Committee announces complete plans for awarding all active band members with college letters signifying their loyalty to their college in this connection. The struggling organization is gathering for a united appearance at the game on Friday evening.

(See editorial, page 2, for band discussion.)

Alma Wins at Olivet

Alma still holds a clean slate, but had a very hard time winning a 22-18 game at Olivet last week. With both clubs having 11 points at half time, Alma came back strong to take the contest. Carl Gusin, the faster-than-fast guard of the winners, made ten points during the engagement and thus took the individual scoring lead from Simmons, his teammate who plays center.

Old Cities in Tiers

The Inca museum at Lima, Peru, has recently come into possession of 300 mummies of aboriginal Peruvians brought back by an expedition to the Pisco region. From these and other discoveries it would seem that there was an advanced civilization in that part of the country long before the time of Christ. Cities of different periods were found, one built over the other, the earlier ones having been buried. The expeditions also returned with great wealth of embroidered tapestries, beautifully decorated pottery, some in the shapes of animals and serpents. One of a llama design showed five toes on the forefeet instead of the present split hoof. Llama skeletons showing the same characteristics were also discovered.

Girls Gain Favor of Mid-West Audiences

Expected to Return to Campus During This Week-end

Hope's girlish songsters have been having big times in their tour of the mid west. Sunday morning they attended services in the Chicago University chapel. South Holland, Cicero, and Englewood have been shown what good music is, Englewood calling for more. After singing for the Christian High School assembly Wednesday, and partaking of a fine lunch there, a concert engagement was arranged for the following Monday. Roseland entertained the girls Wednesday evening and Thursday.

A big thrill was given each girl — and many left folks at home — when the club broadcasted from Milwaukee Friday morning. For the listeners, the climax was reached when the girls sang the college song requested by telegrams from Fraters. The Knickerbocker request was made by Andries Stoketee in the studio.

Calvin hit the high spot in its season's record thus far by winning a 17-18 game from Junior College of Grand Rapids. Our rivals always have two big games with Junior because they are the only college teams in the city. The Dolfin broth-
